

Cindi & Bill would like to see more people involved at the breeding level. They believe that owning, raising and showing the young ones is a great way to promote breeding in the United States. In the months to come, this column will spotlight judges, breeders, owners, trainers and handlers who are contributing to this discipline.

The Breeding Buzz could watch the boys all day long, but we realized it's time to see what the girls have to offer. In doing so, we came across several breeders that have accumulated a nice band of broodmares. We wanted to know how they select a mare for their program, and what it takes to make a 'match made in heaven". Tracy Geller owns and operates a small farm in Burlington, Wisconsin called Six Pound Farm. We applaud her intent of breeding Sporthorses, which can be enjoyed by an amateur or a professional...the operative word being amateur. Tracy considers herself to be both fortunate and lucky to have found the girls who provide a solid foundation

Her ultimate goal is to have attractive mares with good gaits that cover the ground. Other important considerations are pedigree, inspection, and show accomplishments. She feels it is extremely important to "be objective and critical" of what you're starting for her program.

gal. It seems we can't get away from talking about the boys... Tracy is also influenced by offspring when searching for a mare as well as a stallion. As we all know this is not always an option, so this where her gut with We agree with this statement, and realize it takes considerable thought to find the right guy to compliment your

Lily Millie

mares.

play a role. She says, "Knowing that tive or negative qualities they can live with in a mare". What a great philosophy to have, and very realistic. It seems fate was on her side when she found these fantastic there is no perfect horse, it is up to the individual breeder to choose what posi-

Farm. Lily Millie is a fancy bay TB (Leading Hour x Lily Ragget) whose first foal was a premium Oldenburg filly. Still Raining is a beautiful KWPN/NA Warmblood (Idocus x Leiblorraine), that is a prime example of a horse that won on the line and went on to have a great performance career. Her first foal is

Meet the three mares of Six Pound

Ulottie Photo: Tracy Geller

Photo: Tracy Geller Skye

Bit of Heaven Tack Shop proudly sponsors The Breeding Buzz

877-BOH-TACK VISIT OUR NEW LOCATION: 3441 Germantown Pike Collegeville, PA 19426 www. bohtack.

expected this year. Ulottie is an elegant KWPN/NA Warmblood (Good Times x Roklahoma) who has an impressive pedigree and is expecting her first foal this vear as well.

Barbara Carry has Gift Hill Farm in Morriston, Florida. This program caught our eye because she has produced offspring by some of our favorite stallions...Rio Grande, Westporte, and Zarr. Again, the amateur seems to be a prime consideration.

Barbara feels honored to have a group of very special broodmares. She also wants the whole package when selecting a mare, taking into consideration temperament, conformation, movement, show record, and pedigree. She feels it is important to be honest about a mare's strengths and weaknesses. Research is a key element in ALL the choices made at Gift Hill Farm. We all know nobody is perfect... except us!

The goal of this program is to breed exceptional athletes with temperaments to match for the hunter and jumper venues. "With so many stallions to choose from, there is no reason to settle for an average one". We agree that you should never have to settle for mediocrity especially where men are concerned.

Joy

Barbara feels quality mares are very important, and she is very proud of what her girls have accomplished. Joy is a stunning Oldenburg (Jupiter x Delft) who was a top show hunter. She is expecting her second foal this spring. Dutch Vivacious is a lovely TB (Vivacious x Dutch Trim) that enjoyed a jumper career with Barbara before producing some lovely foals. Finally there is Escorte de Mance, a tall bay Selle Français (Fort Grandchamp x Starter) that had a career as an adult amateur horse. She will be having her third foal this year too.

The women definitely deserve our respect, as do the boys...after all it takes two to tango. There are several other breeding programs with gorgeous and talented mares that we can't wait to share with you.

Escorte de Mance (left) and Dutch Vivacious (right).

Photos: James Leslie Parker

Remember to keep your eyes open for more from us...because we will definitely be keeping our eves on vou!

Bill Rube has long been involved with horses and horse shows, and his passion for the sport is very intense. His horses, Sunset Boulevard, Mystery Date, Share the Road, All About Me, Zarrbuck, More About Me, Gold Tycoon, Blonde Ambition, Escamade and West Hampton have all been consistent ribbon winners. Bill realizes that "this is where it all begins and so many of us tend to forget that someone, somewhere, bred and raised the superstars of vesterday and today."

Cindi Deibert has been riding most of her life and credits her love of all animals to her late mother. She feels blessed to have owned champion show hunters such as Montana, DiCaprio, Social Secretary, Ocean City, Worth Avenue,

Rio Renoir, Rio's Echo and young prospects including Hat's Off, Simply Red, Malibu Barbie and Princeton. Cindi is very passionate about the development and promotion of today's young prospects. "Only through the contributions of the owners, handlers and trainers will the great hunter champions of tomorrow be made".

